Report:

On 28 February 2020 Department of Computer Science of Acropolis Institute of Management Studies and Research organized a Group Talk on IPR .

The discussion creates awareness about the value of IPR in our lives and fosters a better understanding of the rights associated with IPR such as copyright, patent, trademarks, industrial designs, geographical indications and so on. issues prevalent in modern society were also discussed. The discussion gives output that the last several decades have seen the emergence of intellectual property rights (IPRs), especially patents, as a key issue across the fields of law, the economy and the biosciences

In this talk students got deep knowledge about opportunities, funding schemes, laws and registration process in the field of technology in different sectors like agriculture, medical, IT industries, finance etc. The session was moderated by Dr. Bhawna Somani.

Report:

Under the aegis of AIMSRS, department of Humanities organized a National E –Seminar on the theme “Revival of Indian Economy after COVID – 19” on June 7, 2020.

It was well received by academic fraternity; about 650 participants (including Principals of various Colleges, faculty members, research scholars) across the country registered for the event and more than 1100 views were generated on Google Meet and YouTube Live.

The E Seminar commenced with the session of Prof. Ganesh Kawadia, a Stalwart in the field of Economics. He highlighted the pathetic state of the Indian Economy which needs concrete measures to be taken at the earliest. He emphasized on strengthening the agricultural sector to make India self reliant. Besides this, he also pointed out that India should focus on its export potential.

This was followed by the session of Prof. Kanhaiya Ahuja, an eminent Economist. Prof. Ahuja focused on reforms for the Indian migrant laborers which is the need of the hour to alleviate poverty. He showed concern over working of MSME without sufficient workforce. He suggested MSME’s need cash flow for satisfactory running.

Prof. Anupama Rawat pointed out that migrant workers contribute 93% to GDP of the economy. She highlighted the plight of the migrant laborers which forced them to move back to their native villages. This has put the industries in a state of turmoil. The migrant workers have to be provided jobs in their local villages for survival. Moreover, some of the skilled labor should be brought back with self respect by giving them proper incentives. This is very important for the running of MSME’s, the lifeline of Indian Economy.

Dr. Tanima Dutta talked about the Health and Education sector. She pointed out that the allocation of funds in the Healthcare sector in India is very low as compared to other countries of the world. At this time of pandemic we need to step up our budget for healthcare. She laid stress on strengthening the Agricultural economy which is the backbone of Indian economy, in the present scenario.

Prof. Atul N. Bharat discussed about the employment opportunities that would be created after the pandemic. Prof Bharat highlighted the need for digital transformation in the economy. There may be a decline in employment opportunities in certain sectors but new job avenues will also come into play due to changes.

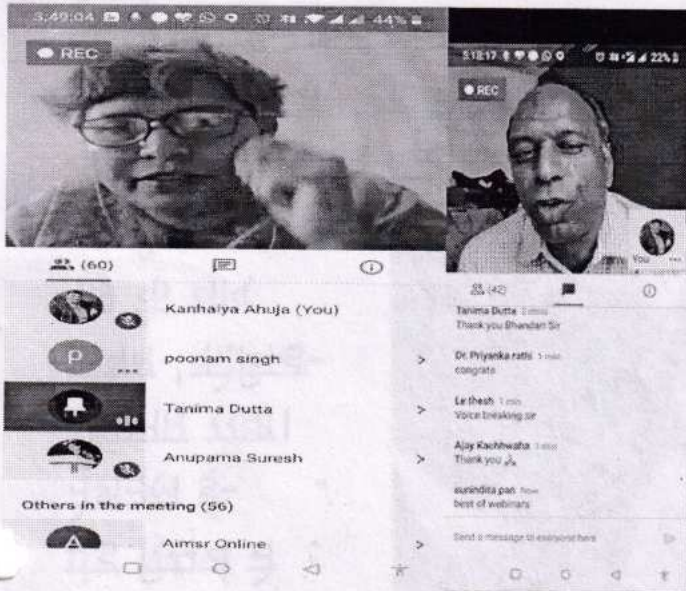

lifestyle. This is the time to innovate and re-skill in order to be employable. There will be a paradigm shift in Education Industry.

The E - Seminar culminated with the address of Chairperson Dr. Jayantilal Bhandari. He expressed gratitude and praised all the speakers for their valuable contribution in the conference. He showed a silver lining in dark clouds by focusing on the positive side of the Indian economy. He was very positive that our economy would emerge out of these dark times in a very effective manner.

The program was conceived and conducted by Dr. Poonam Singh and the Vote of thanks was proposed by Principal Dr. Ashok Jhwar

Report:

Research is important in both scientific and non-scientific fields. While taking decisions, managers are required to generate implementable solutions. These solutions are generated by management scientists who use different tools and techniques for arriving at those implementable solutions. These tools and techniques collectively called ‘Research Methodology’. With an objective to make the researchers aware about research methodology, AIMSRS has organized a two day’s workshop on Research Methodology, “Hands on SPSS”. Thirty faculty members from different renowned educational institutions and faculty members from AIMSRS have participated in this workshop to learn and revive research methodology skills with the subject expert Dr. Vishal Vyas. Dr. Vyas is a subject expert of research methodology at Atal Bihari Vajpayi Indian Institute of Information Technology and Management, Gwalior.

Participants enjoyed the rigorous sessions on the subject and worked on the software, SPSS, for conducting research tools. Two days sessions made them understand about different tools of management research.

Event Highlights:

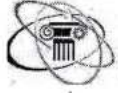

On the 7th and 8th of June 2019, Acropolis Institute of Management Studies and Research (AIMSR) hosted its inaugural International Conference titled "Recent Advances in Business Management and Sciences" at Acropolis North Campus, Dewas Bypass Indore. Over 200 delegates hailing from more than 20 countries, representing diverse academic and industry backgrounds, graced the occasion.

AIMSR, in collaboration with the Research Foundation of India (RFI), took the initiative to elevate educational research by fostering collaboration between industry and academia. The conference aimed to synergize the talents of young researchers and experts on a global platform. The conference proceedings were published in a UGC-approved journal with an Impact Factor of Five and above, gaining recognition from SCOPUS and international research associations.

The primary objective of the conference was to provide a platform for networking, idea exchange, and presenting research to the international community. Participants were encouraged to discuss the latest innovations, achievements, trends, and practical challenges in key areas.

On the first day, Dr. Ashok Jhawar, the Principal, and Mr. Gaurav Sojatia, Chairman, AGI, delivered the opening address, expressing the commitment of Acropolis towards such initiatives in the future. Dr. Hare Ram Sah was the special guest, and Dr. Narendra Dhakad, Vice-Chancellor

Details of Participants	Students and faculty members of Dept. of Biosciences
Achievements (if any)	Research aptitude was generated among the students and they are enthusiastic to attend next training session and contribute to National Level Department of Biotechnology Project.

Report:

Dept. of Biosciences, AIMS R organized webinar in association with IISER Pune, Persistent System & Department of Biotechnology on 21st Sept. 2020 on "How to Read Scientific Literature?" and "Introduction to MANAV - The Human Atlas Initiative". Objective of the webinar was to train Biosciences students and faculties to collate, curate, manage and arrange the information of human physiology (in natural and diseased state) to create “WORLD’S LARGEST HUMAN ATLAS” from public scientific literature & databases. Not only this, it would give an insight to identify the gap in research to be focused to achieve the target for benefit of scientific community and ultimately to the society.

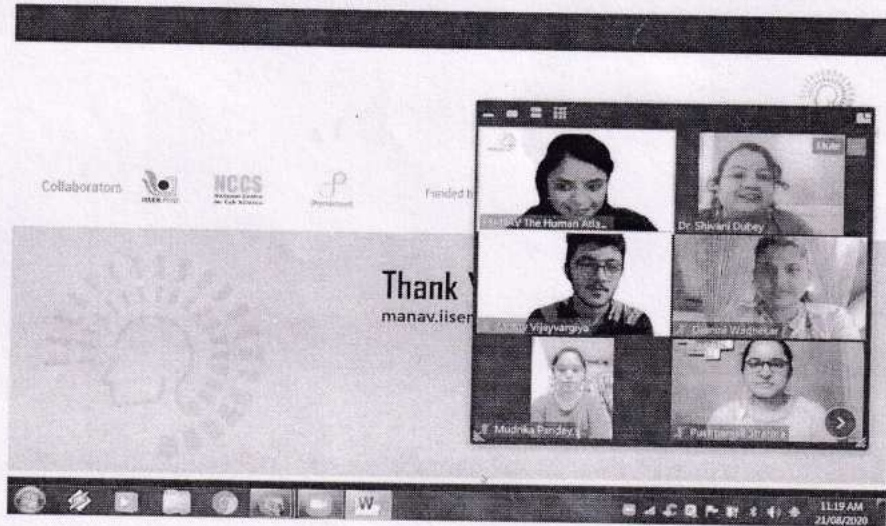

Webinar was conducted via Zoom by Dr. Dhara Patel Lakhkar. She explained structure of research and review papers and ways to curate information from them and asked questions time to time to evaluate student’s understanding about scientific literature extraction from reputed public domain like Pubmed and Google Scholar and ongoing session. The session was interactive and informative. Participants were asked to give English Proficiency test and a Post webinar questionnaire and those who secured 60% or above were provided with Digital certificates. Vote of thanks was given by Dr. Shivani Dubey.

Highlights of the Leadership Talk:

15th October, birth anniversary of Late Shri A.P.J Abdul kalam is celebrated as Innovation day. This occasion is being celebrated throughout the week in Acropolis group of Institutions .On this occasion Department of Biosciences, IIC & Srijan E- Cell organized a session on Entrepreneurship, Innovation & IPR on 14 October 2020 by Mr Nilesh Trivedi, Assistant Director, MSME, Govt. of India.

In this session Mr Trivedi discussed the different career opportunities and self-employment schemes in MSME sector specifically for bioscience students. A deep knowledge was given to the students about opportunities, funding schemes, laws and registration process for self-employment in different sectors like agriculture, herbs, toys, chemicals, dairy etc .

He also guided the students to explore bright future in the field of chemical industry like Liquid detergents, Dish washes, toilet cleaners etc. He even talked about different government schemes for self-employment like Mukhya Mantri Swarojar Yojna (State Govt.), Yuva Udhyami Yojna , PMEGP, Mudra Yojna, Start-up India Scheme (Central Govt.),Stand -up India Scheme (Central Govt.). The session was concluded with question and answer round, where various queries of students were solved by the expert.

The session was conducted & moderated by Mrs Rati Trivedi Nair and vote of thanks was given by Dr Pranoti Belapurkar (HOD Bioscience) .For successful completion of this program, I offer my gratitude to E- Cell , Group Director (CDC) PROF Atul Bharat, Principal Dr. Ashok Jhawar, Vice Principal Dr. Manish Jain and Dr. Anant Gwal , Head Skill Development Cell & Faculty members for being part of the session.

With an MBA from Banaras Hindu University, Varanasi, he brings forth a comprehensive experience of 36 years spanning various sectors such as administration, research, data analysis, industrial development, and MIS development. Throughout his journey, he has honed his skills and expertise, contributing significantly to the organizations he has been a part of.

His educational background includes a Doctor of Philosophy in Management from Shri Vaishnav Institute of Management in 2006-07, a Master of Management Studies with a major in Marketing from BHU in 1981-83, and a Bachelor of Science with majors in Physics, Chemistry, and Mathematics from BHU in 1977-80.

In terms of work experience, his career trajectory has been diverse and enriching. From 2021 onwards, he has been serving as the HoD/Professor at MediCaps University, where he oversaw various administrative and academic responsibilities. Prior to this, he held positions such as Dean/Professor at IMI Group of Institutions, Dean at MediCaps University, Director at Jagran Lake City University, Bhopal, and Director at Apex Institute of Management, Indore, among others. His tenure at these esteemed institutions involved curriculum development, faculty training, IQAC activities, and fostering an enriching learning environment for students.

In addition to these roles in academia, he has also contributed significantly to research and publications. He has authored several papers covering diverse topics such as marketing strategies, organizational commitment, and performance measurement in various industries. Notably, he has supervised and guided doctoral research, resulting in the award of a PhD.

His engagement with academia goes beyond teaching and research. He has actively participated in workshops, seminars, and conferences, both as an organizer and a speaker. Additionally, he has served on the editorial/advisory boards of prestigious journals, lending his expertise to scholarly publications.

Outside of academia, his experience in administration and industry has been equally rewarding. He has held key positions in organizations such as Alpine Power Systems Ltd., MP Consultancy Organization, and Dunlop India, where he was involved in project management, market research, consultancy, and entrepreneurship development. These roles have equipped him with a holistic understanding of business operations and strategic decision-making.

Throughout his career, he has been driven by a passion for continuous learning and professional growth. His achievements include spearheading various initiatives, establishing new institutes, and contributing to the academic and industrial landscape of Madhya Pradesh.

Event Highlights:

A one day training workshop on the usage of Statistical Package for Social Sciences (SPSS) software was organized on 8th December, 2019 by Acropolis Institute of Management Studies and Research. Dr. A. K. Singh, Director, Indore Management Institute, Indore was the resource person for the workshop. The objective of the workshop was to provide intensive training on the everyday use of SPSS software for data analysis. The direct beneficiaries of this workshop were the faculties using empirical research so that they could use it in their research work and guide the students regarding its usage. The workshop received an overwhelming response.

The workshop began with a warm welcome by Dr. Pranoti Belapurkar, Prof. and Head, Dept. of Biosciences. The workshop started with a welcome address by Dr. Priyanka Chawla, Asst. Prof, AIMSRS, who welcomed and encouraged the participants to make the best use of the training workshop. Dr. Ashok Jhawar, Principal, AIMSRS inaugurated the workshop with his words of motivation and welcomed the guest.

The session started with introduction of types of data and scale of measurements. The speaker explained the importance of knowing the data type and data scale as this information is vital in selecting statistical techniques and methods for data analysis. This was followed with an introduction to SPSS software. All the participants were provided with web-link to download trial version of the

Report:

This seminar creates awareness about the value of IPR in our lives and fosters a better understanding of the rights associated with IPR such as copyright, patent, trademarks, industrial designs and so on.

Department of BSC Computer Science had organized an expert talk session for the students of acropolis. This session was about intellectual property rights and the chief speaker of the above topic was Ms. B Ritika Reddy

In this session the speaker gave an overview detailed explanation over IP type of IP. Firstly she explained intellectual property as a creation of mind and a business asset then she classified this as an intangible property which is the property of your mind later we get to know that intellectual property is about claiming ownership on your idea.

Then she introduced 4 major types of IP out of them the first is trademark, which is the identity of your product and the different types of trademarks are word, symbol, slogan. Later we also get to know about some nontraditional marks such a s - sound, colour, signature, motion, and shape .Then she explained the process of registration of trademark this process contains

'Trademark search - filing of application - allotment of no. - Examination - opposition - registration'. But in any case if you lose your trademark to someone you can file a civil suit or criminal cases. Then Miss Reddy proceed to our next type IP that is Copyright which is a exclusive right to author and composer of a work to print published is a his or her work for a certain period of time. Copyright exist in literary work, music, artistry programming etc.

Then she explained about the third IP that is Design which is external shape configuration eye appealing aesthetic feature of an article, a person can register ownership only on the eye appealing features of a product and not on its function its registration procedure is also same as a trademark.

The last type IP is Patent which is a Monopoly right conferred by a state to a person in consideration of disclosure of his or her invention which will fall into public domain after the expiry, it is said to be that it is a statutorily right and given to promote innovation. Later she explained what to do if our patent is abolished. We can file either civil suit or a criminal case.

It was very good interaction with students. She further added challenges faced by an entrepreneur and how they resolve. It was the day full of learning and students learnt many things.

Highlights

Acropolis Institute of Management Studies and Research in association with Asian Institute of Family Managed Business, Washim, organized a Webinar on Contribution of Family Managed Business in development of Indian Economy. The resource person for the webinar was Dr. Samish Dalal, Associate Professor at S.P. Jain School of Global Management. He has played a vital role in creating knowledge for the family business community.

Dr. Samish emphasized on a three point agenda about family business. According to him, family business is the biggest source of employment. They have the ability to penetrate the market and create a chain of stores, so they play a vital role in the development of Global economy. He further emphasized the point that family business evolves because of the efforts and perseverance of the owner. The element of trust building, leading to developing relationships is a very important aspect in family business. Family business creates an ecosystem for the germination of other businesses. He laid stress on personal attributes like integrity, feeling of gratitude and appreciation of talent of employees, which goes a long way in the success of family businesses.

Activity Report: "Workshop on Intellectual Property Rights"

Department: BBA, B.Com, BA, BSc.

Date of Event: 23rd September, 2022

Time: 10.30 AM to 5.00 PM

No. of Students: 57

Facilitator: Acropolis Institute of Management Studies and Research

Objective of Event: To help develop understanding of IPR among students

Coordinator: Prof. Gaurav Chaitanya and Dr. Shahina Qureshi

Speaker: Prof. Sachin Mittal

Location: AICTE Idea Lab, Ambani Hall

Highlights

Intellectual Property Rights (IPR) is a set of rights that are granted to the creator of an original work. It also includes the rights to use, adapt and distribute the work.

In a session titled "Intellectual Property Rights", Prof. Sachin Mittal, Head, Incubation Cell (Acropolis) introduced the concept of intellectual property rights (IPR) in India and how it is applicable to students. He explained that IPRs are similar to patents but are not limited to only inventions. They are also used for trademarks, designs, copyrights, etc.

He then went on to explain how IPRs can be applied in various areas including education. He talked about how students can register their names and trademarks as well as use them to protect themselves from third-party infringement.

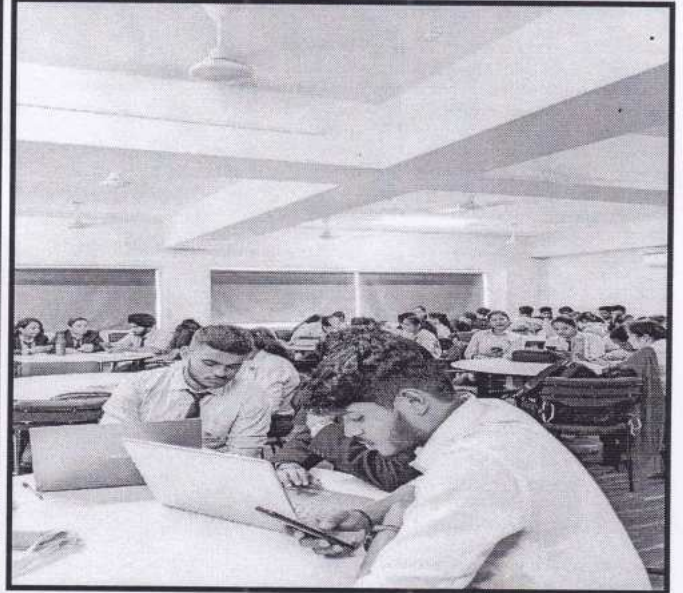

In addition to this, he also explained that universities should consider using IPRs as part of their research activities and publications so that they can add value to their work without relying solely on external funding sources such as grants or donations from individuals or corporations.

The session was well received by all presenters and participants alike who were able to gain knowledge about IPRs in India as well as how they apply in different fields such as education and research activities for both students and faculty members alike.

The speaker has given us a lot of insights on how intellectual property rights can help us achieve the goals we have in life. He has shed light on how important it is to protect our ideas that is why it is important to register them with the government.

Activity Report

AICTE Idea Lab presents “Exposure Visit to Incubation Unit- Entrepreneurship Development Institute of India (EDII), Ahmedabad”

Department: BBA, B.Com, BA, BSc.

Date of Event: 13th December, 2022

Time: 10.30 AM to 5.00 PM

No. of Students: 66

Facilitator: Acropolis Institute of Management Studies and Research

Objective of Event: To provide exposure of incubation unit to the undergraduate students for development of their innovation and startups

Coordinator: Dr. Shahina Qureshi

Location: EDII, Ahmedabad

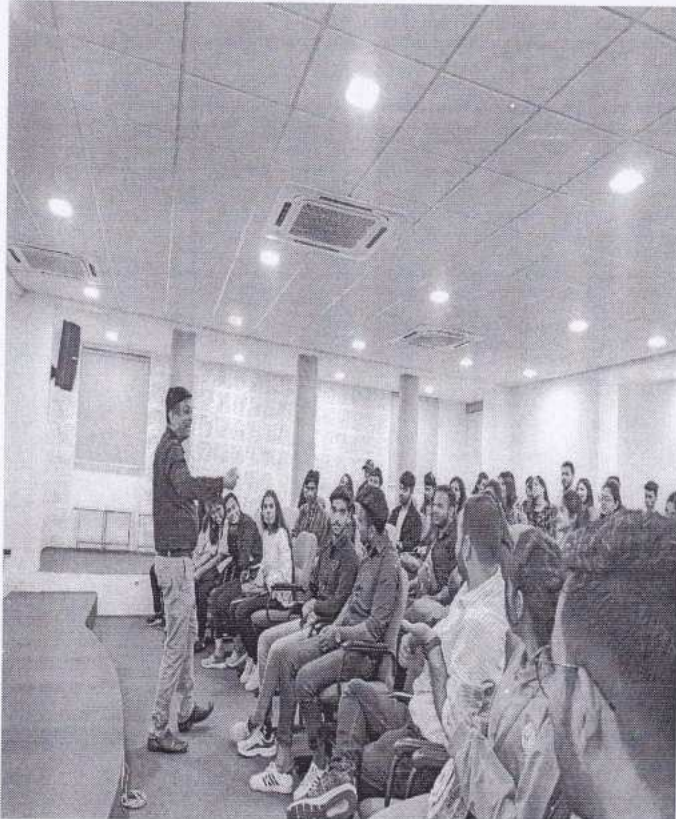

This report provides a summary of the visit by undergraduate students from various disciplines (BCom, BBA, BA, and BSc) of Acropolis Group to the Entrepreneurship Development Institute of India (EDII) in Ahmedabad on 13th December 2022. The purpose of the visit was to expose the students to entrepreneurship and innovation and facilitate interaction with industry experts.

The visiting group, composed of 90, arrived at the EDII campus at 10.30 am. They were warmly welcomed by the EDII staff, who provided visitor badges and guided them to the designated meeting area. A comprehensive campus tour was then conducted, showcasing the various facilities including classrooms, library, innovation labs, incubation centers, and the administrative block.

EDII had organized presentations and workshops to provide valuable insights into entrepreneurship. The sessions covered topics such as an introduction to entrepreneurship, success stories of entrepreneurs, and business plan development. The interactive nature of these sessions left a positive impact on the students, inspiring them and equipping them with practical knowledge.

The visit also facilitated meaningful interactions with EDII faculty and students. The students engaged in discussions with faculty members, gaining valuable insights into entrepreneurship, career prospects, and specific industries. Interacting with EDII students allowed our students to gain an understanding of campus life and the overall learning experience at EDII. The visit was a success, providing the undergraduate students with a valuable exposure to entrepreneurship and innovation. The organizers express their gratitude to the EDII team for their efforts in organizing this enriching visit. The experience had a lasting impression on the students and is expected to contribute to their personal and professional growth.

Key learning of the session:

Entrepreneurship Development Cell under AICTE Idea labs organized an expedition to Ahmedabad for AIMSRS Students!

The objective of this expedition was

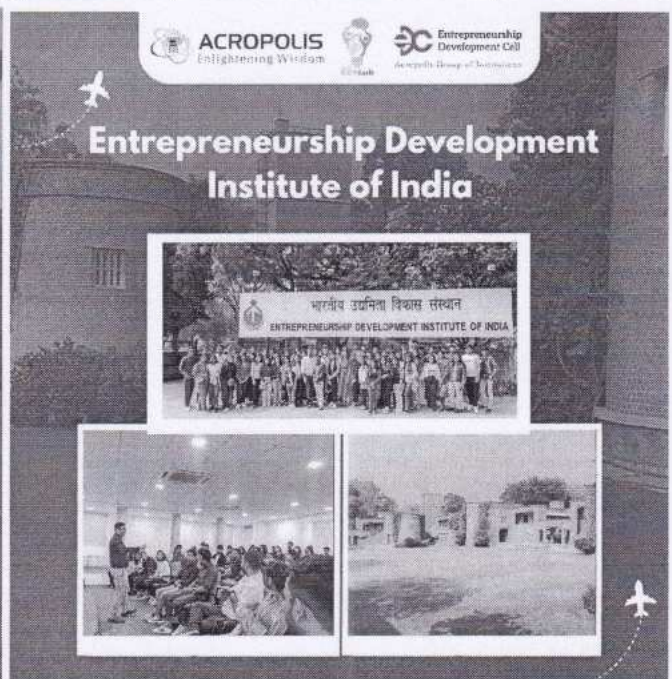

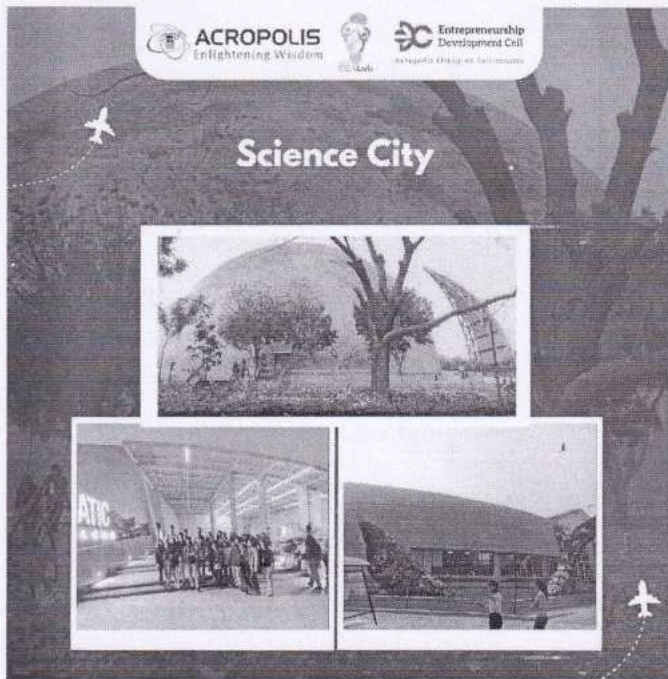

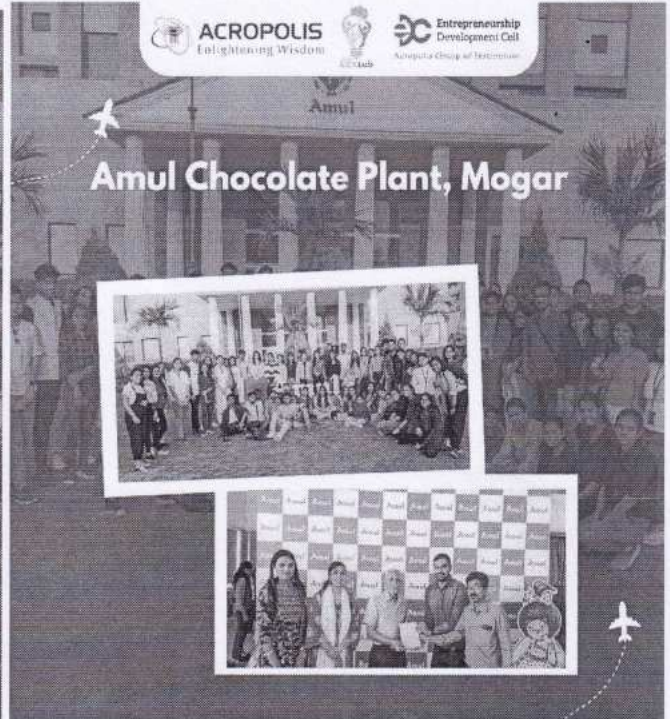

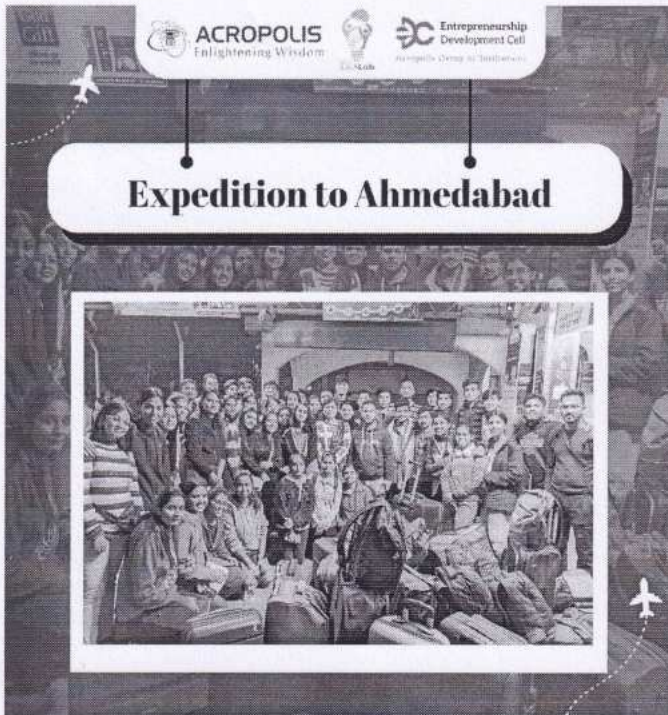

1. Amul visit: To visit the Amul milk plant, check on the production and quality control of milk and milk products, as well as to learn about the company's social responsibility initiatives. The tour also includes a visit to the factory where the company makes its famous butter and a visit to its corporate headquarters.
2. EDII: To learn more about the entrepreneurship development institute of India by the government of India to learn about their different programs for entrepreneurship and innovation.
3. ISRO: To visit ISRO's headquarters in Gandhinagar, where we learned about their mission, activities, and achievements in space exploration. This includes a visit to the Vikram Sarabhai Space Center where we saw rocket launches and other equipment used for space research activities (including satellites).
4. Science City Visit: To see firsthand how technology is used for development purposes in scientific research labs like those at IIT Gandhinagar or IISER Ahmedabad (where our group will be staying). We visited Aquatic Gallery to learn about aqua creatures
5. A visit to the Auto World Vintage Car Museum: The museum was established in 1993 by B.R. Mehta, an automobile enthusiast, and collector, who spent nearly all his life collecting vintage cars from all over the world. The museum has become a landmark in Ahmedabad city and attracts thousands of tourists every year. On this trip, we visited the local sites of Ahmedabad city. This local sightseeing gave a better understanding of the culture and people who call this place home.

Workshop on Design Thinking, Critical thinking and Innovation Design

Department: BBA, B.Com, BA, BSc.

Date of Event: 22nd September, 2022

Time: 10.30 AM to 5.00 PM

No. of Students: 37

Facilitator: Acropolis Institute of Management Studies and Research

Objective of Event: To develop students' insight on Design thinking, Critical thinking, and Innovation Design

Coordinator: Prof. Gaurav Chaitanya and Dr. Shahina Qureshi

Speaker: Dr. Amit Kumar Marwah

Location: AICTE Idea Lab, Ambani Hall

Event Highlights-

In the session "Design Thinking and Critical Thinking," Dr. Amit Kumar Marwah discussed the importance of design thinking as a way of solving problems. He explained that design thinking is about creating innovative solutions to problems and it involves creating new ideas, testing them, iterating them and then using these solutions. The speaker also discussed how critical thinking can be used in the context of design thinking by developing a point of view on a problem. In addition, he discussed the need for practitioners to be able to work with others in order to solve problems as well as how they can use their own skill set in order to do so.

He was able to explain the theory of Design Thinking in a way that was easy to understand, as well as how it applies to critical thinking. He spoke about the importance of being able to take ideas from concept to product, and then to market, so it is clear that there is a lot of research and preparation that needs to go into developing a new product or idea.

Dr. Kumar also spoke about some of the ways that design thinking can help people think critically and solve problems in their lives, which I found very interesting. The session was loaded with interesting activities like mask and backpack designing.

Activity Report Session on Entrepreneurship & Innovation

Activity Driven by: Institution's Innovation Council, E- Cell & Department of Biosciences, Acropolis Institute of Management Studies and Research, Indore.

Event: Session on Entrepreneurship & Innovation

Objective of the Session: The session acquainted the students to develop the approach towards innovative ideas and to understand the core of entrepreneurship with it.

Date of Event: June 10, 2022

Name of the Expert- Dr Shahina Qureshi, IIC Convener AIMSRS.

Faculty Coordinator: Prof. Rati Trivedi Nair

Student coordinator: Suhana Shaikh, IIC Leader, 2nd year, B.Sc. Biotech.

No. of students attended: 21 (B.Sc. I yr)

Department of Biosciences, AIMSRS under the aegis of Institution's Innovation Council has organized an expert session on Entrepreneurship & Innovation. The expert of the session was Dr Shahina Qureshi, IIC Convener, AIMSRS.

Dr Shahina discussed the concepts of innovation and entrepreneurship, with real-life examples. According to her Innovation is presenting something old with a new thought, or with added benefits to it. Ma'am also shared her experience of Saudi Arabia visit. The floors there have built-in air conditioners and so that people don't feel the heat while walking, even in that extremely hot environment. The paper cups there have butterfly shaped handles with them that are more convenient to handle & not found in India yet.

The session was interactive & addresses concepts and contextual aspects of innovative entrepreneurship, understood as activities that drive productivity, job creation and economic growth. Innovative entrepreneurship is recognized as a problem-solving activity that helps to address pressing developing challenges while creating business opportunities at different scales.

At last vote of thanks was given by Prof. Rati Trivedi Nair, E Cell Faculty Leader, and Department of Biosciences. AIMSRS.

Summary

I am passionate about fostering a culture of innovation and entrepreneurship within organizations. With extensive experience in leading innovation initiatives, designing and delivering educational programs, and mentoring student-led startups, I have developed a deep understanding of the key drivers of innovation and growth.

My expertise in entrepreneurship and strategy has allowed me to work with organizations of all sizes, from startups to Fortune 500 companies. Through my work as an innovation ambassador, I have helped organizations develop and implement innovative strategies to drive growth, increase efficiency, and enhance their competitive advantage.

I have developed and delivered educational programs related to entrepreneurship and innovation to employees, customers, and partners. These programs have helped individuals and organizations develop the skills and knowledge necessary to succeed in today's rapidly changing business environment.

In my work mentoring student-led startups, I have had the pleasure of working with some of the most promising young entrepreneurs in the industry. Through constructive feedback and guidance, I have helped these startups refine their business plans, prepare for investor meetings, and secure funding.

Overall, my passion for innovation and entrepreneurship, combined with my experience and expertise, make me a valuable asset to any organization looking to drive growth and innovation. I am always excited to connect with like-minded individuals and organizations to explore new opportunities and drive meaningful change.

ACTIVITY REPORT

Institution Innovation Council's "Workshop on Prototype Development"

Date: - Feb 14, 2022

Time: - 9:00 AM- 10.30 AM

Speaker: - Mrs. Rati Trivedi Nair, E Cell Faculty Leader, Department of Biosciences, AIMSRS.

Faculty Coordinator: - Dr. Shahina Qureshi –IIC Convener and Innovation Ambassador, MoE

Student Coordinator: - Suhana Shaikh, IIC Student Leader, Department of Biosciences, AIMSRS.

Objective: - To understand different phases of prototype development.

Audience Profile: - Students from AIMSRS

No. of Participants (Session): - 35

Mrs Rati Nair defined prototype as a working model of a product that is used for testing before it is manufactured. Prototypes help designers learn about the manufacturing process of a product, how people will use the product, and how the product could fail or break. A prototype is not the same thing as a model. A model is used to demonstrate or explain how a product will look or function. A prototype is used to test different working aspects of a product before the design is finalized.

Main steps of prototype development are-

Step 1: Define your main goal of the project. Start your initial brainstorming with your team. You may know your design obstacles and need to research solutions.

Step 2: Stick with 1 or 2 features to begin with. Remember this version will be refined along the way.

Step 3: Create your design on paper.

Step 4: Discuss with appropriate partners or stakeholders knowing there will be improvements. Any managers, users, researchers etc. should be included for feedback.

Step 5: Edit your design after discussion with partners or stakeholders.

Step 6: Design from paper to computer. There are kits, books and information to help you create prototypes.

Step 7: Consult with appropriate entities and make approved revisions.

Step 8: If the outcome is what you agree on, add another feature.

Step 9: Documentation will be continuous. There is always room for improvement.

Report:

An expert talk on “How to file a patent” was organized for the faculty members of FCA department. In this session we have invited Prof. Sachin Mittal from Mechanical Department. He is a coordinator at innovation and incubation cell Acropolis. Sir started the talk with explaining what innovation is and how a small idea or thought of person successfully converted into an innovation .He beautifully explained us the procedure to file a patent and gave various examples of other countries like china and Japan (Top position in patenting). He also elaborated the differences between copyrights, patents and trademark. The knowledge he shared was highly appreciated by all faculty members.

Profile Summary

I am Sachin Mittal working as Coordinator, Innovation & incubation Cell at Acropolis Institute of Technology and Research, Indore (M.P). I am Mechanical Engineering graduate and M. Tech in industrial Engineering. I started my teaching career in 2002 from NC College in engineering Panipat (Haryana) affiliated to Kurukshetra University. I have been founder faculty in many engineering colleges in Delhi NCR. My teaching experience includes administrative responsibility as HOD and filed 8 patents. 4 patents are granted till now. I indulged in many innovative projects with army and India air force and CISF. I started my own venture in 2016 and worked on Bio toilets and pre fabricated structures and Mobile toilets with bio tank. I am part of NGO working for Energy development and education of poor family. Worked on green buildings and air ventilation and environmental effect. Under my guidance Acropolis group of institution has filed 26 patents and copyright.

Report:

Acropolis Institute of Management Studies & Research organized one day Seminar on Tools and Techniques in Research Methodology. This workshop is organized aimed to equip participants with essential skills and knowledge to enhance their academic curriculum and research work, particularly beneficial for PhD scholars. Resources person Dr Bhawna Somani, Indore.

Speaker Dr Bhawna Somani is an experienced academic professional with over 25 years of experience in teaching Mathematics and Statistics, an experienced researcher and published various research paper.

Session-1

Dr. Dr Bhawna Somani in the first session of workshop emphasized on the need to explore various research methodologies, tools, and techniques, enabling the attendees to conduct high-quality research and contribute meaningfully to their respective fields. The key aspects of the workshop discussed were, to familiarize participants with different research methodologies and their applications, introducing participants to various tools and techniques for data collection, analysis, and interpretation, to develop the understanding of research design, sampling techniques, and data visualization methods and to facilitate discussions on ethical considerations in research and best practices for academic integrity.

Session-2

While sharing detailed information in the next session, Dr Bhawna Somani elaborated on various aspects of research methodology, providing insightful overview of different research paradigms, approaches, and designs, emphasizing their relevance in academic research and in the academic arena of modern teaching by providing a systematic framework for conducting scholarly inquiries and advancing knowledge. It equips educators with the tools to design robust research studies, critically analyze existing literature, and draw valid conclusions, thereby enhancing the quality and rigor of academic discourse. Additionally, proficiency in research methodology empowers educators to cultivate a culture

Report

In order to develop entrepreneurial acumen among participants, Department of Biosciences, AIMSRS, organized two days activity of visit and workshop on the topic Biofertilizer Technology.

On day 1, after inaugural of the workshop at AIMSRS seminar hall, participants from different colleges of Indore and Ujjain were taken to visit Jaiv Vatika Research Laboratories at Janapav by college buses. Founder of Jaiv Vatika Mr. Nitesh Jasani sequentially demonstrated his set up for media preparation, sterilization unit, inoculation room, incubation area and fermenter unit. Students witnessed several advance instruments like Biosafety cabinet, Stereo-microscope, flow cytometry, and phase contrast microscope etc. Mr. Jasani also shared investment and profit margin of setting a biofertilizer unit and funding agencies.

Dr. Ashok Jhavar, Principal AIMSRS welcomed participants to the workshop on day 2. Interactive session by Mr. Jasani was focused on organic farming, use of several bacteria, fungi and algae to prepare biofertilizer at large scale. He discussed how to select biofertilizer for particular crop of that region and method of application in the field.

Q & A session on use of liquid over solid preparations, funds for investment and steps for developing a potent, effective biofertilizer on small and large scale. It was duly highlighted that before thinking of such set up, one should be efficiently up grade his skills for industrial production of biofertilizer.

Dr. J. L. Bhandari, Group Director, Acropolis Institutes congratulated Head of the Biosciences department, Dr. Pranoti Belapurkar to conduct such entrepreneurial events to be the need of hour. Dr. Bhandari and Dr. Belapurkar felicitated Mr. Jasani with memento. Certificates were distributed to the participants and volunteers. Vote of thanks was proposed by Dr. Shivani Dubey.

Report:

The Department of BBA, AIMS R under the ambit of Institution's Innovation Council organized a workshop on Innovation of Commercialization and Technology on 15th February 2023 at the central auditorium of Acropolis Institute of Technology and Research. The workshop aimed to inspire students to innovate and commercialize their ideas using technology to achieve their goals. There were two speakers, Mr. Yash Kulshrestha and Ms. Shikha Sharma. Yash Kulshrestha (Founder of Feedbox), a renowned expert in innovation and technology commercialization, shared his insights on how to innovate and take an idea to the growth stage in five steps. He talked about the latest technological advancements and how to use them to develop innovative products and services. He also shared success stories of companies that have used technology to disrupt the market and achieve success.

Shikha Sharma, a world record holder, and famous 3D rangoli artist shared her inspiring journey, which motivated the students to think differently and pursue their dreams. She also talked about her experiences working with startups and how she helped them stand out from the crowd. The workshop was highly interactive, and the students actively participated by asking questions and sharing their views on innovation and technology commercialization. The speakers encouraged the students to think out of the box and come up with innovative ideas that can make a difference in society.

Overall, the workshop was highly informative and motivational, and it inspired the students to think innovatively and use technology to their advantage. The Institution's Innovation Council should be commended for organizing such a wonderful event that provided a platform for students to learn from experts in the field.

Under the leadership of IIC leaders: Mr. Aditya Gurjar and Ms. Priya Kumari and the guidance of faculty coordinator Professor Neetika Jain the event was conducted successfully.

Day 1: Monday, September 11, 2023

10:30 AM - 11:00 AM: Registration and Reporting

- The workshop commenced with a bustling registration and reporting session. Attendees arrived with a palpable sense of anticipation. They received workshop materials, including notebooks, pens, and badges. This initial phase allowed participants to network, fostering a collaborative atmosphere. The registration process was impeccably organized, ensuring a smooth start to the event.

11:00 AM - 1:00 PM: Prof. Himanshu Bhiwapurkar - Topic: "Idea to Product Development"

- Prof. Himanshu Bhiwapurkar's session was a captivating dive into the process of turning an abstract idea into a tangible product. His presentation was structured, offering a step-by-step guide. He emphasized the importance of thorough market research and validation in the ideation phase. Prof. Bhiwapurkar's real-world examples and case studies kept the audience engaged. Attendees left with a clear understanding of the critical stages in product development.

2:00 PM - 4:00 PM: Prof. Umesh Carpenter - Topic: "Idea to Product Development"

- Prof. Umesh Carpenter built upon the foundation laid by Prof. Bhiwapurkar, delving deeper into the technical aspects of transforming ideas into products. His session introduced participants to various tools and methodologies used in the development phase. Prof. Carpenter encouraged an interactive environment, with participants brainstorming potential challenges and solutions. This hands-on approach allowed attendees to grasp the complexities of product development. Prof. Carpenter's session left participants inspired and equipped with practical knowledge they could immediately apply to their projects.

Day 2: Tuesday, September 12, 2023

10:30 AM - 11:00 AM: Reporting

- The reporting session on Day 2 facilitated active engagement and knowledge sharing among participants. Attendees eagerly discussed their experiences from Day 1, fostering a sense of camaraderie. This collaborative atmosphere encouraged participants to consider different perspectives and provided valuable insights into the challenges and successes faced by their peers.

11:00 AM - 1:00 PM: Prof. Rati Trivedi Nair - Topic: "Product Innovation"

- Prof. Rati Trivedi Nair's presentation on product innovation was a highlight of Day 2. She explored various strategies and methodologies for generating innovative product ideas, including open innovation and user-driven innovation. Prof. Nair stressed the importance of staying attuned to market trends and customer needs. Attendees were encouraged to think beyond incremental improvements and embrace a disruptive mindset. Prof. Nair's session inspired participants to view innovation as a dynamic process that can differentiate products and drive growth.

2:00 PM - 4:00 PM: Prof. Atul Bharat - Topic: "Prototyping"

- Simultaneously, Prof. Atul Bharat conducted an in-depth session on prototyping. He demonstrated how prototypes serve as valuable tools for testing and refining product concepts. Attendees learned about rapid prototyping techniques and the iterative design process. Prof. Bharat's practical approach allowed participants to create and test their own prototypes, fostering a hands-on learning experience. His session empowered participants with the skills needed to effectively translate ideas into tangible prototypes, a critical step in the product development journey.

Day 3: Wednesday, September 13, 2023

10:30 AM - 11:00 AM: Reporting

- Day 3 commenced with yet another insightful reporting session, enabling participants to share their experiences and challenges encountered during the workshop. This interactive exchange of ideas and problem-solving strategies continued to foster a collaborative learning environment.

11:00 AM - 1:00 PM: Prof. Sachin Mittal - Topic: "Patents & Intellectual Property Rights"

- Prof. Sachin Mittal's session on intellectual property rights was a crucial element of the workshop. He elucidated the importance of patents, copyrights, and trademarks in protecting innovative ideas and creations. Prof. Mittal provided practical insights into the patent application process and shared notable case studies of intellectual property disputes. Attendees left the session with a profound understanding of how to safeguard their innovations, reinforcing the notion that intellectual property is a valuable asset in the world of product development.

2:00 PM - 4:00 PM: Dr. Bhawna Somani - Topic: "Design Thinking"

- Concurrently, Dr. Bhawna Somani led an engaging discussion on design thinking, an approach that places the user at the center of product design. Dr. Somani guided participants through the stages of empathizing, defining, ideating, prototyping, and testing. Practical exercises and group activities allowed attendees to apply design thinking principles in real-world scenarios. Dr. Somani's session fostered a creative and empathetic mindset among participants, emphasizing the importance of user feedback and iterative design in creating successful products.

Day 4: Thursday, September 14, 2023

10:30 AM - 11:00 AM: Reporting

- The reporting session on Day 4 continued to serve as a valuable platform for participants to share their insights and discuss how they had applied the knowledge gained in the previous days. This iterative feedback process encouraged critical thinking and problem-solving.

11:00 AM - 1:00 PM: Prof. Gaurav Chaitanya - Topic: "Branding Strategies"

- Prof. Gaurav Chaitanya's presentation on branding strategies was a highlight of the workshop's penultimate day. He elucidated how effective branding can influence consumer perception and product success. Prof. Chaitanya delved into the psychology of branding, emphasizing the importance of consistency and storytelling in building brand identity. Participants left the session with a comprehensive understanding of how to create and manage compelling brand strategies to support their product development efforts.

2:00 PM - 4:00 PM: Dr. Shahina Qureshi - Topic: "Ideation Techniques"

- Simultaneously, Dr. Shahina Qureshi conducted a session on advanced ideation techniques. She introduced participants to various creative methods and tools for generating new product ideas. Attendees engaged in brainstorming sessions, lateral thinking exercises, and ideation workshops. Dr. Qureshi's session encouraged participants to think beyond conventional boundaries and explore innovative solutions to real-world problems. Her practical approach equipped attendees with a diverse set of ideation techniques that they could apply in their future product development endeavors.

Day 5: Friday, September 15, 2023

10:30 AM - 1:00 PM: Project Implementation

- The final reporting session on Day 5 allowed participants to synthesize their learning from the workshop and discuss their plans for implementing these newfound skills and insights. This reflection reinforced the practical application of the workshop's content.

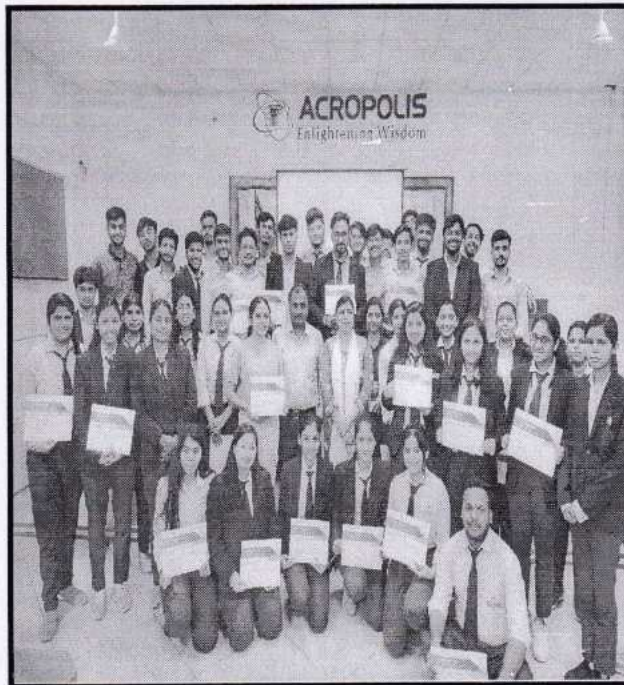

2:00 PM - 4:00 PM: Dr. Shahina Qureshi - Topic: "Learning of 4 days and its application"

- Dr. Shahina Qureshi's concluding session provided participants with an opportunity to consolidate their knowledge from the four previous days. Attendees reflected on their experiences and discussed how they intended to apply these insights to their respective projects and careers. This session served as a pivotal moment for participants to envision the practical impact of their learning.

4:00 PM: Project Showcase, Feedback and Certificate Distribution

- The workshop concluded with a feedback session, providing participants with an opportunity to share their valuable insights and reflections on their learning journey. Attendees openly discussed what they found most valuable from the workshop and also offered constructive suggestions for enhancing future iterations of similar programs. To acknowledge and celebrate the participants' dedication and their successful completion of the workshop, certificates were presented by the esteemed Dr. Gajendra Sirohi and Dr. Shahina Qureshi, adding a touch of honor and prestige to the culmination of the event. The carefully curated sessions from expert speakers covered a wide spectrum of topics crucial to the product development process. Attendees left the workshop equipped with not only theoretical knowledge but also practical skills that they could immediately apply to their projects and careers, making it a highly successful and enriching event.

Overview

The week-long event, "A Visit to Idea Lab," hosted by the AICTE IDEA Lab, proved to be an enlightening and enriching experience for 280 students from Acropolis Institute of Management Studies and Research. This initiative aimed to bridge the gap between theoretical knowledge and practical application by providing students with hands-on exposure to cutting-edge technologies and engineering processes.

Activities and Learning

The students actively participated in various activities throughout the week, gaining practical insights into the development and manufacturing of products. The AICTE IDEA Lab, renowned for its state-of-the-art facilities, served as the perfect backdrop for students to explore and experiment with engineering machines.

Faculty Involvement

Four dedicated faculty members accompanied the students, ensuring they received guidance and mentorship during the visit. The faculties actively engaged with the students, sharing their expertise and industry experiences, thereby enhancing the overall learning experience.

Impact

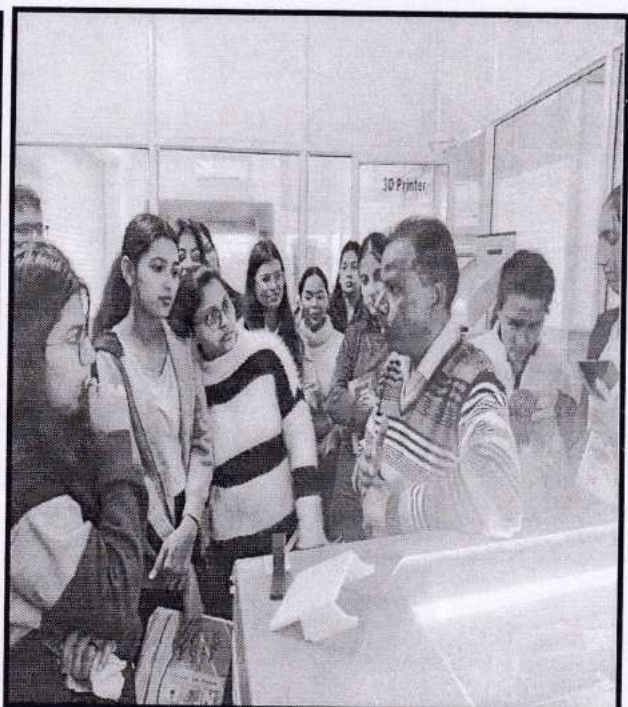

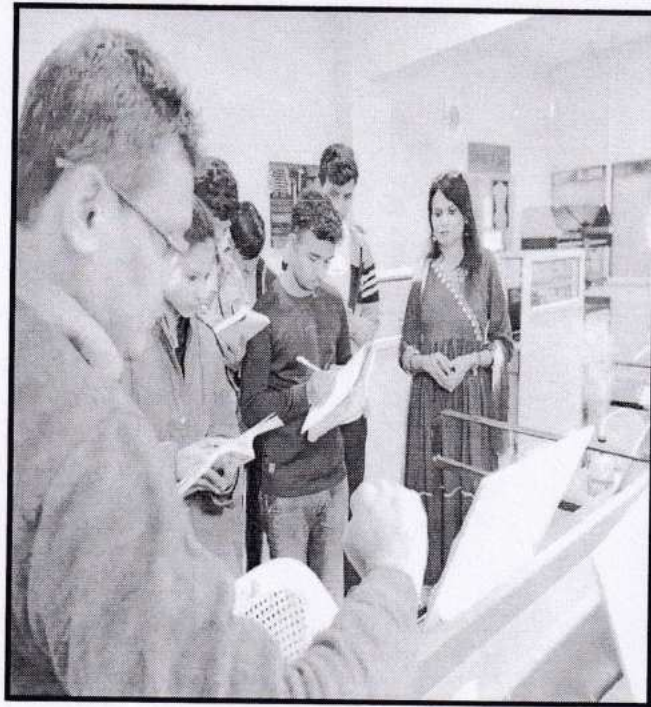

The visit left a lasting impact on the participants, fostering a spirit of innovation and creativity. Students not only learned about the application of theoretical concepts but also had the opportunity to witness firsthand the intricate processes involved in bringing ideas to life.

Conclusion

"A Visit to Idea Lab" organized by AICTE IDEA Lab was a resounding success. The collaboration between the educational institution and the IDEA Lab facilitated a holistic learning experience for the students. The event's success can be attributed to the seamless coordination between the organizing team and the enthusiastic participation of students and faculty members. Such initiatives play a crucial role in preparing students for the practical challenges of their chosen fields and contribute to their overall academic and professional development.

The Founder’s Forge event was held on March 24, 2023, at the central auditorium at AITR at 11 am. The event was organized by the Institution's Innovation Council (IIC), and the speaker for the event was Mr. Prakash Rathore, the founder of the famous food franchise Apna Sweets. The event's purpose was to provide insights on the journey of building a successful venture and making it a huge franchise, as well as discuss the food industry and how one can start their own business.

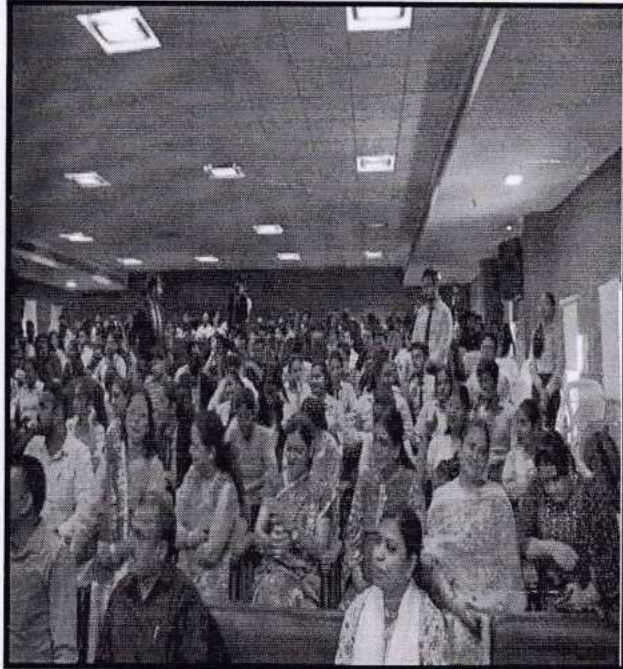

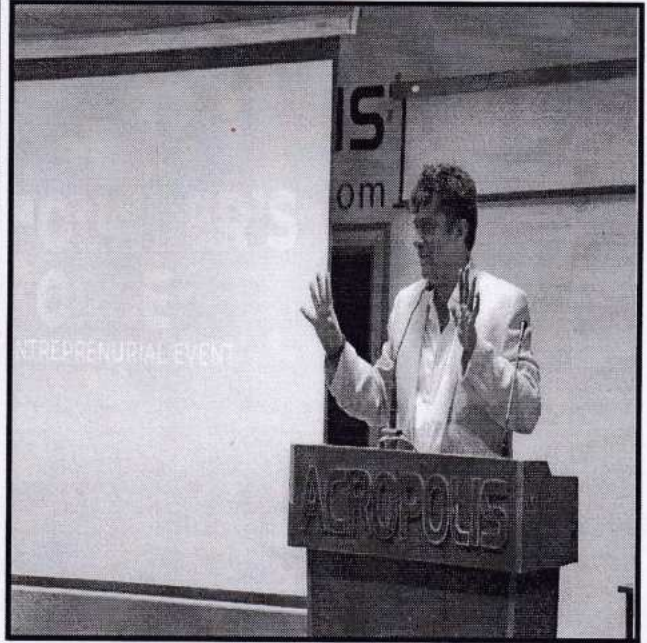

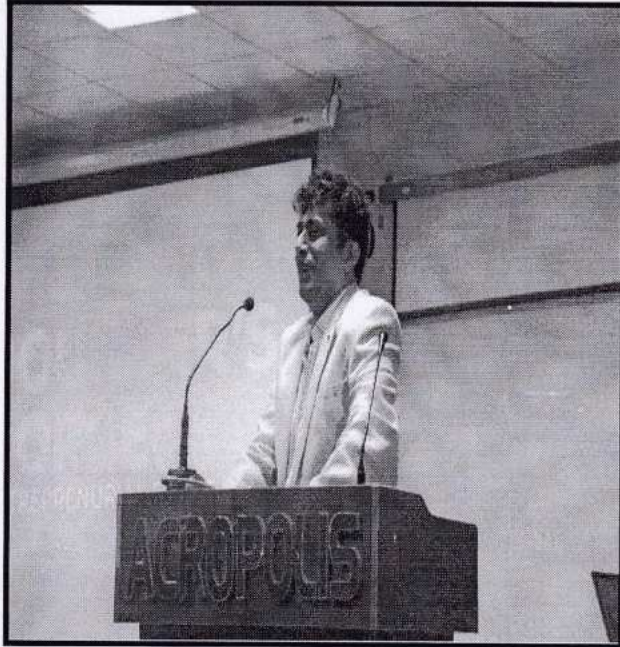

The event started with the welcome of the speaker by Dr. Ashok Jhawar sir Principal AIMSIR by presenting the speaker with a bouquet. The speaker was then invited to share his journey of building a successful venture and making it a huge franchise. We discussed the background of Mr. Prakash sir and also how the idea of starting Apna Sweets struck his mind, then we talked about what hardships he faced and how sir overcame them. Sir also talked about the food industry and how one can start their own venture in the same.

The session then proceeded with a question and answer round where several students asked their questions and query and received their answers. Questions regarding managing stress, maintaining work-life balance, dealing with parents, and other topics related to entrepreneurship were asked. Mr. Rathore provided insightful answers to all the questions asked, which were well-received by the audience.

The event concluded with Dr. Pranoti Belapurkar ma’am HOD Biosciences, presenting a memento to Mr. Prakash Rathore sir as a token of remembrance and appreciation of our gratitude for giving us time in his busiest schedule and sharing his experiences with the audience.

The event was well attended, and the question-and-answer session was the highlight of the event which allowed the audience to better understand entrepreneurship and the food industry. Overall, the event was informative and engaging and a successful one.

Activity Report: Workshop Report on Intellectual Property Rights

Event Details

Event Name: Workshop on "Intellectual Property Rights"

Date: September 13, 2023

Location: AIMS Seminar Hall

Organized by: Acropolis Institute of Management Studies and Research

Speaker: Dr. Sachin Mittal (Innovation Officer & IPR Coordinator)

Number of Students Attended: 73

Number of Faculties Attended: 4

Event Summary:

On September 13, 2023, the Acropolis Institute of Management Studies and Research (AIMSR) organized a workshop on the crucial topic of "Intellectual Property Rights" (IPR). The event took place at the AIMS Seminar Hall and was facilitated by Dr. Sachin Mittal, an esteemed Innovation Officer and IPR Coordinator.

Event Objective:

The primary objective of the workshop was to raise awareness and impart knowledge about intellectual property rights, their importance, and the processes involved in protecting and leveraging intellectual assets. By equipping participants with a comprehensive understanding of IPR, the workshop aimed to empower them to safeguard their innovative ideas and creations effectively.

Speaker Profile:

Dr. Sachin Mittal, the speaker for the event, is an accomplished Innovation Officer and IPR Coordinator. His expertise in the field of intellectual property rights and his extensive experience made him an ideal choice to lead this informative workshop.

Key Takeaways and Learning Outcomes:

1. Understanding Intellectual Property Rights: Participants gained a comprehensive understanding of various forms of intellectual property rights, including patents, copyrights, trademarks, and trade secrets. They learned about the legal frameworks and procedures for obtaining and enforcing these rights.

2. Importance of IPR: The workshop highlighted the critical role of intellectual property rights in fostering innovation, protecting creative works, and safeguarding business interests. Participants recognized the economic and strategic value of IP assets.

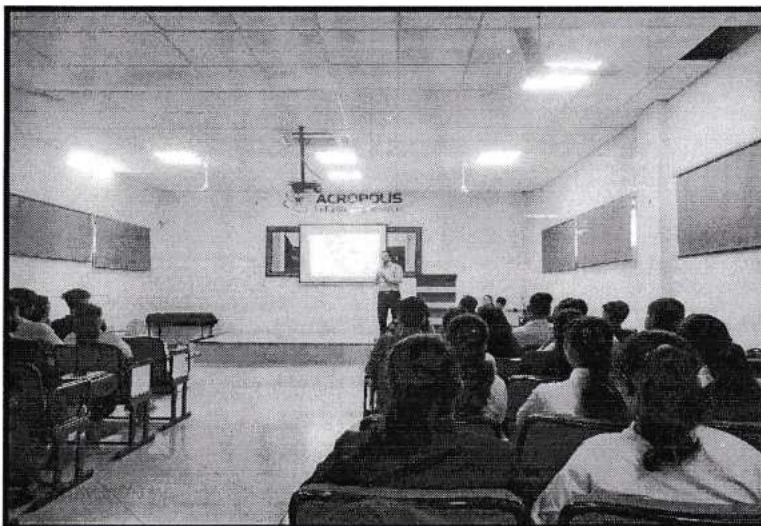

3. IPR Processes and Strategies: Participants were introduced to the processes involved in filing for intellectual property protection, conducting prior art searches, and developing effective IP strategies aligned with organizational goals.

4. Case Studies and Best Practices: Through real-world case studies and examples of best practices, participants gained insights into effective IP management, commercialization strategies, and potential challenges and pitfalls to avoid.

Interactive sessions, group discussions, and practical exercises enabled participants to apply the concepts learned and develop a deeper understanding of intellectual property rights and their implications.

Conclusion:

The workshop on "Intellectual Property Rights" organized by the Acropolis Institute of Management Studies and Research successfully achieved its objective of raising awareness and imparting knowledge about this crucial aspect of innovation and business. The insights gained from this event will equip participants with the necessary skills to navigate the complexities of intellectual property rights, protect their innovations, and leverage their intellectual assets effectively. The event underscored the institution's commitment to fostering an environment that values and promotes innovation and intellectual property protection.

Objective of Workshop	The primary objective of the workshop on research methodology was to equip academicians with advanced analytical skills and theoretical knowledge essential for conducting high-quality research.
Resource Person	Dr. Virshree Tungare
Dignitaries Present	Principal and HODs of all the Departments, AIMSRS
Details of Participants	All Faculty of AIMSRS

Report:

Introduction: A two-day workshop on research methodology was conducted for academicians with the aim of enhancing their understanding and skills in various analytical techniques commonly used in research. The workshop covered a range of topics including factor analysis, structural equation modeling (SEM), parametric and non-parametric analysis, cluster analysis, conjoint analysis, and discriminant analysis. The sessions were led by Dr. Virshree Tungare, an esteemed expert in the field.

Day 1: The first day of the workshop focused on statistical techniques used for data analysis. Participants delved into the intricacies of factor analysis, understanding its applications in reducing data complexity and identifying underlying patterns. Dr. Tungare provided insights into the theoretical concepts and practical implementation of SEM, guiding participants through model specification and estimation techniques. The afternoon sessions were dedicated to parametric and non-parametric analysis methods. Participants gained a deeper understanding of parametric tests such as t-tests and ANOVA, along with their assumptions and interpretations. Non-parametric tests including Mann-Whitney U test and Kruskal-Wallis test were also explored, highlighting their relevance in scenarios where parametric assumptions are not met.

Day 2: The second day commenced with discussions on cluster analysis, wherein participants learned about different clustering algorithms and their applications in grouping similar observations. Conjoint analysis, a valuable tool for understanding consumer preferences and decision-making processes, was thoroughly explained with practical examples.

The workshop concluded with a session on discriminant analysis, focusing on its use in predicting group membership based on predictor variables. Participants engaged in hands-on exercises and case studies to apply the concepts learned throughout the workshop.

Conclusion: The workshop on research methodology provided participants with a comprehensive overview of various analytical techniques essential for academic research. Through Dr. Virshree Tungare's expertise and interactive teaching style, participants gained practical insights into the application of statistical methods in their respective fields. The hands-on exercises and case studies facilitated a deeper understanding of the concepts covered.

The workshop received positive feedback from participants, who expressed appreciation for the clarity of explanations and relevance of the topics discussed. Many participants noted that they felt more confident in applying the learned techniques to their research endeavors. Overall, the workshop served as a valuable platform for enhancing research skills and fostering collaboration among academicians.

Activity Report

Activity Driven by: Department of Biosciences, Acropolis Institute of Management Studies and Research, Indore.
Event: Workshop on Molecular Biology Techniques
Objective of the Session: To impart both theoretical and practical knowledge of the basic molecular techniques
Date of Event: January 12 th - 13 th , 2023
Convener: Dr. Pranoti Belapurkar
Faculty Coordinator: Dr. Seema Kelotra
No of participants: 100 Students of Biosciences
Report prepared by- Dr. Seema Kelotra

Report

In order to enhance the practical skills of students in the area of molecular biology and genetic engineering, Department of Biosciences, AIMSR, organized two days' workshop on Molecular Biology Techniques.

Day 1: After the welcome session at AIMSR seminar Hall, the workshop was started by Dr. Hemant Kawalkar, Instructor and Sales Manager, Genie Laboratories. He started the workshop with presentation on Gene Cloning technique which was continued by discussion between the students and the experts. For performing the practical work in biotechnology laboratory all the students were divided into two groups. Dr. Kawalkar demonstrate Gene Cloning experiments and provide hands on training to students. The results and queries were discussed further between the experts and students.

Day 2: On the 2nd day technical expert Dr. Hemant Kawalkar gave presentation on DNA Fingerprinting technique and explained the basic concepts and its working principle. The same groups performed the practical work of DNA Fingerprinting on 2nd day followed by discussion session.

Dr. Pranoti Belapurkar, Prof. and Head, Bioscience Department felicitated Dr. Hemant Kawalkar with memento. Vote of thanks was proposed by Dr. Pragya Goyal.

Outcome: The workshop provided adequate opportunity for the participants to gain knowledge and build capacity in various techniques required for Molecular Biology. There was more positive interaction among all the students and their participation that gave idea to all the attendants of handling, performing and interpretation of work/ practical.

Subject: Permission for conducting "Workshop on Entrepreneurial Skill, Attitude and Behavioral Development"

Dear Sir,

We are planning to conduct "Workshop on Entrepreneurial Skill, Attitude and Behavioral Development" In Computer Science department of Acropolis Institute of management & Research, Indore for all students of B.Sc. (CS). The main objective behind this workshop is to spark the entrepreneurial spirit in the students by guiding them on problem solving skills, out of box thinking and how to convert their ideas into innovation and emerge as successful Entrepreneurs. To educate students about Success that it requires the right skill set, attitude and behavior. Details of events as follow:

Write up giving highlights

Department of Biosciences AIMSIR in association with ACT Homi Bhabha Centre for Science Education TIFR Mumbai organised a National seminar on “Polymer Science, from classroom to research to real world applications”, and intercollegiate exhibition competition on “Polymer and its innovative applications”.

Session commenced by offering prayer to goddess Sarswati, Dr. Pranoti Belapurkar, welcomed all the guests, dignitaries and participants from different colleges. The whole day’s session was divided into two parts pre lunch and post lunch.

Pre lunch session

In this session there were two speakers Dr. N. Rajesh Professor, and Mr. Sachin Bansal President.

Dr. N. Rajesh Professor talked about use of biopolymers in water treatment and Mr. Sachin Bansal made students aware about the real world application of polymers in day to day life, he also threw light on new policy introduced for reducing the plastic pollution via industries that is ERP Extended Responsibility Policy.

Post Lunch Session

This Session also had two speakers Dr. Aasheesh Srivastava and Dr. Sunil Kumar Boda.

Dr. Aasheesh Srivastava enlightened students about the use of biopolymers in the field of medical science which is a great achievement as it increases the efficacy of drug. Dr. Sunil Kumar Boda talked about the application of polymers in tissue engineering, which can be a promising career for the students.

Exhibition:

Theme of the Exhibition “Polymer and its innovative applications”

The Exhibition was inaugurated by Mr. Sachin Bansal, Dr. N. Rajesh, Dr. Jayanti Lal Bhandari along with all the dignitaries present. There were participants from IPS, MRSC, AITR, AIMSIR and other colleges of Indore. It was judged by Dr. Nitin Sapre. The competition was tough as students presented various innovations using polymers such as solar cell, grass, conducting polymers, etc. Events were a synergy of the youth creativity and talent quotient. It was a hustle bustle affair with a polymer exhibition rolled to test talent and mental ability, logical thinking and creativity. All in all it was a fun filled event jelled with cerebral grilling and creative palette.

Valedictory:

The session started with the summary of event followed by the encouraging words of Guest of Honor Dr. Nitin Sapre. The main attraction of the session was prize distribution of polymer exhibition. Winners were awarded with certificate, trophies and cash prize.

1 prize – Ms. Jhanvi Jain and Ms. Palak Vyas Acropolis institute

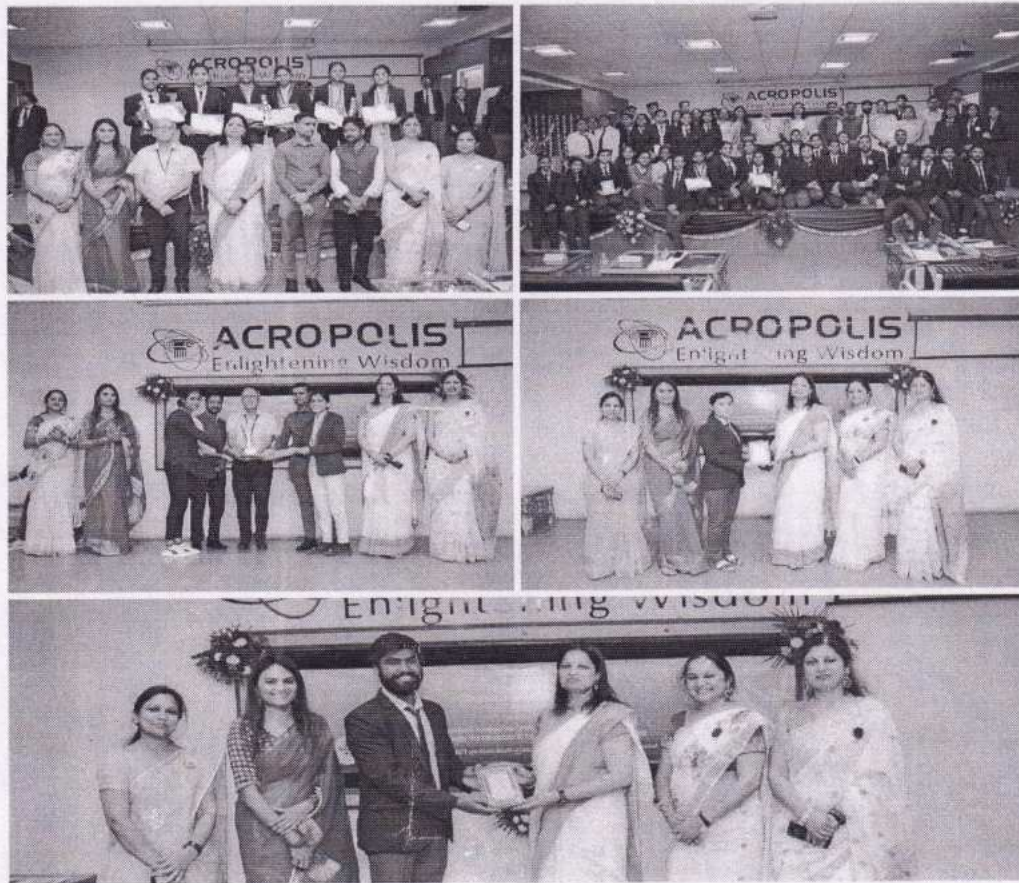

II prize – Ms. Komal Barange and Ms. Nitu Pawar MRSC

III prize – Ms. Sneha Gajmore and Ms. Anushka Sathe Acropolis institute

Department of Biosciences, AIMS R is the students' chapter of Microbiology Society of India, (MSI). Annually, it announces the best student award for students of Biotechnology and Microbiology. In the same context we in the department had taken nominations from B.Sc III yr students and Ms. Suhana Sheikh and Mr. Pushpak Gandhare were selected and awarded on the basis of scientific acumen, certifications, participation and overall performance. The programme was moderated by Prof. Pushpanjali Sharma and Prof. Pragya Goyal, vote of thanks was propped by Prof. Rati Trivedi Nair.

About Department

In a short span of time, Department of Biosciences, AIMSR has successfully made a hallmark in the field of Biotechnology, Microbiology, Pharmaceutical Chemistry, Chemistry and Computer Science by providing value added certification courses, trainings and internships for skill development. This has led to placements of our students in Pharma, software, food, agriculture, dairy industries.

Solaris- The Science Club is determined to impact critical subjective thinking through various educative and fun filled activities which make students think out of the box to compete in professional world.

To develop scientific acumen among the students, seminars have been organized on indispensable themes time to time.

Exhibition (Intercollegiate Competition)

*Winners shall be felicitated with attractive rewards and certificate
All the participants can avail our college bus facility.

About Seminar

Polymer science is a multidisciplinary field that includes synthetic polymers, biopolymers, polymer characterization, design and manufacture of new innovative products related to a safer and more sustainable environment.

The continuous development of new polymer materials is critical to sustaining and expanding the growing interest in polymer technology. Modern polymer science is very adept at tailoring polymers to specific goals in terms of mechanical and thermal stability.

In this context, a national seminar on POLYMER SCIENCE: FROM CLASSROOM TO RESEARCH TO REAL WORLD APPLICATIONS is being organized on 28th Feb 2023 at Dept. of Biosciences, AIMSR to celebrate National Science Day.

NISM Workshop- Financial Literacy Certification

Department	Commerce
Name of Event	NISM Workshop
Date	28 th Feb -3 rd March '23
Objective	To aware students about the securities Market
Coordinator	Dr. Gajendra Sirohi
Details of Participants	Students of B.Com I Year
Key note Speaker	Dr. Priya Agrawal
No.of Students	110 Students

Highlights of the Event:

In order to equip the students of B.Com and B.A. with financial literacy, the Department of Commerce at AIMSRS conducted a comprehensive 10-hour workshop. The primary objective of the workshop was to educate students about the intricacies of the investment world and provide them with a solid foundation for making informed financial decisions.

The keynote speaker for the workshop was Dr. Priya, an esteemed expert in the field of finance and investments. She began by emphasizing the importance of investment in today's rapidly evolving economic landscape. Dr. Priya delved into the processes and prerequisites necessary for investing in the securities market, highlighting the crucial factors that investors should consider before committing their funds.

Further, she shed light on the intricate workings of the primary and secondary markets, enabling students to gain a deeper understanding of these vital components of the investment ecosystem. Dr. Priya's comprehensive explanation of the investment process in these markets provided students with invaluable insights into the functioning of the securities market.

Moving on, the workshop explored the realm of mutual funds, which have emerged as a popular investment avenue for individuals seeking diversification and professional management of their portfolios. Dr. Priya meticulously explained the various types of mutual funds available, their respective risk profiles, and the strategies for selecting and investing in these funds.

Dr. Shalika Ojha

One of the highlights of the workshop was the discussion on career opportunities in the securities market. Dr. Priya shared her expertise on the various roles and responsibilities within the industry, equipping students with the knowledge necessary to pursue careers in areas such as investment banking, portfolio management, and financial analysis.

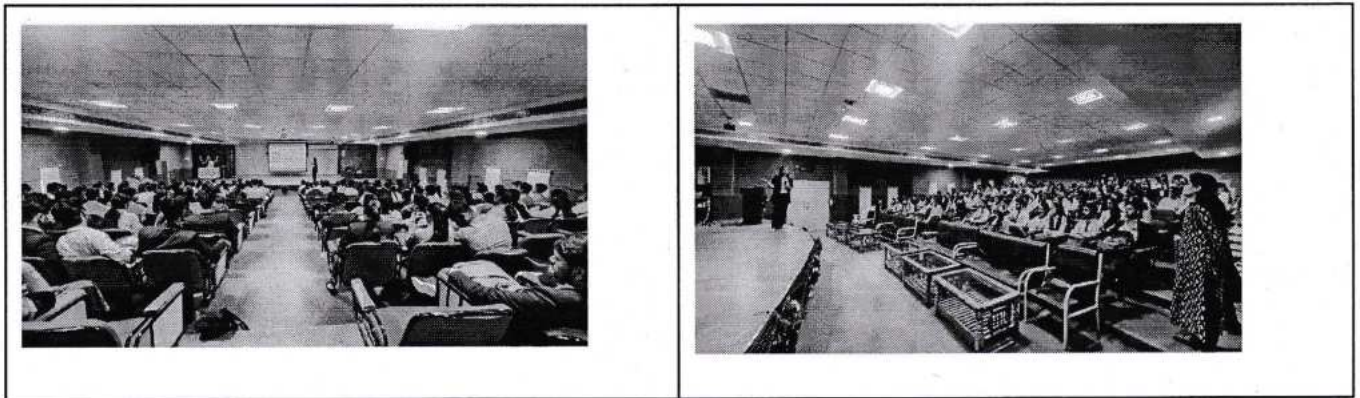

Throughout the workshop, students actively participated by posing questions and seeking clarifications on various aspects of the securities market. Dr. Priya's comprehensive responses and real-world examples ensured that students gained a profound understanding of the subject matter.

The 10-hour workshop proved to be an invaluable experience for the students of B.Com and B.A., providing them with the financial literacy necessary to navigate the complexities of the investment world. Armed with this knowledge, students are better equipped to make informed decisions regarding their personal finances and potentially pursue rewarding careers in the financial sector.

Report:

Acropolis Institute of Management studies & Research organized a Seminar on Overcoming Academic Challenges and Fostering Innovation. This Seminar is organized in order to spread awareness about new academic challenges and fostering innovation. Resources person was Dr. Abha Rishi, Ex. Executive Head of Madhya Pradesh startup center Indore. Speaker was welcomed by Principal Dr. Ashok Jhawar. Introduction of guest was given by Dr. Gajendra Sirohi, coordinator IQAC, AIMSR, Indore. He told that Dr. Abha Rishi is richly experienced in the field of research.

Dr. Abha Rishi addressed and introduced the new terms of research. She further explained- How can one overcome common challenges in one's first year of teaching? Like Seek mentorship, Plan ahead, engage your students, Seek feedback, Take care of yourself, keep learning.

Dr. Abha Rishi further explained about ways to foster innovation on one's team - Build a culture of trust and psychological safety, encourage brainstorming and idea generation, provide opportunities for development and cross-functional collaboration, foster a growth mindset, offer flexibility and autonomy, encourage knowledge sharing and collaboration.

Around forty faculty members were present during this program. The event also witnessed the gracious presence of Principal Dr. Ashok Jhawar, Dean Dr. Ananat Gwal, Head Dr. Geeta Santosh, Heads of various departments and faculty members. Program was conclude with the Vote of thanks given by Dr. Pranoti Belapurkar. She told that this seminar was fruitful. Our faculty members will be benefitted by this seminar.

Quiz on "Research Methodology - SPSS" workshop

- 1) A measure of the peakedness of a distribution curve is its skewness.
- 2) If we arrange the observations in a data set from highest to lowest, the data point lying in the middle is the median of the data set.
- 3) When working with grouped data, we may compute an approximate mean by assuming that each value in a given class is equal to its midpoint.
- 4) A mean calculated from grouped data always gives a good estimate of the true value, although it is seldom exact.
- 5) We can compute a mean for any data set once we are given its frequency distribution.
- 6) The mode is always found at the highest point of a graph of a data distribution.
- 7) Extreme values in a data set have a strong effect on the median.
- 8) The dispersion of a data set gives insight into the reliability of the measure of central tendency.
- 9) The standard deviation is measured in the same units as the observations in the data set.
- 10) A fractile is a location in a frequency distribution that a given proportion (or fraction) of the data lies at or above.
- 11) The coefficient of variation is an absolute measure of dispersion.
- 12) According to Chebyshev's theorem, no more than 11% of the observations in a population can have population standard scores greater than 3 or less than -3.
- 13) The value of z for some point x lying in a normal distribution is the area between x and the mean of the distribution.
- 14) A distribution where the mean and median have different values can never be a normal distribution.
- 15) A frequency distribution lists observed frequencies for an experiment that has already been performed; a probability distribution lists outcomes that could result if the experiment were performed.
- 16) The value of random variable will take on can usually be predicted in advance of a particular occurrence.
- 17) A statistic is a characteristic of a population.
- 18) The standard error of the mean is the standard deviation of the distribution of sample means.
- 19) With increasing sample size, the sampling distribution of the mean approaches normality, regardless of the distribution of the population.
- 20) The standard error of a sample statistic is the standard deviation of its sampling distribution.
- 21) Any sampling distribution can be totally described by its mean and standard deviation.
- 22) If the standardized sample mean is between zero and the critical value, then you should not reject null hypothesis.
- 23) In testing hypothesis about the difference of two means, suppose that the sample size are large, if we do not know the actual standard deviations of the two populations, we can use the sample standard deviations as estimates.
- 24) When the sample sizes are small, only one tailed tests of the difference between two population means can be done.
- 25) Probability values can be used for one sample tests, but not for two sample tests.

Venue	Smart Room, AIMS R
Objective of the session	To equip faculties with essential skill and knowledge to conduct data analysis in research
Resource Person	Dr. Vivek Sharma, Sr. Lecturer, IMS, DAVV, Indore
Faculty coordinators	Ms. Shalini Panjwani
Details of Participants	All Faculties of various departments of Acropolis Institute

Session Highlights:

The department of Commerce organized a two day workshop on the topic Research Methodology - SPSS on 3rd 6th May, 2024, for faculties of the entire Acropolis Institutions at smart room, AIMS R. The program was conducted by Dr. Vivek Sharma, Sr. Lecturer, IMS, DAVV, Indore. Hands-on practice was the main feature of the workshop.

About the program:

This successful workshop conducted under the guidance of principal sir, Dr. Ashok Jhavar and HoD of Commerce Dr. Sonali Jain .Workshop started with the welcome address of shalini panjawani, principal sir welcomed the guest by presenting a flower bouquet and a diary as a token of gratitude.

Schedule of the workshop

Day 1 - Session 1 - Overview of the Research, Literature review, Research Problem identification and formulation etc, research tools etc.

Day 1 - Session 2 - Measurement scales, introduction and need of SPSS, application of the software, types of test according to the type of data etc.

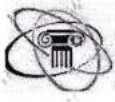

Day 2- Session 1 - Descriptive statistics, Import data into SPSS or create variables in SPSS manually,

Day 2 - Session 2 - application of test on the data set, hypothesis formulation, testing and analysis interpretation.

Procedural Learnings and Outcome of the Workshop

On the very first day of the workshop, Dr, Vivek Sharma explained basics of research, Literature review, research problem identification and formulation. He gave a research problem and asked methodology to get the research done on the problem. In response, faculties shared their methodology to research the given problem. He also briefed about various types of data, measurement scales and how to apply research tools according to type of data. In the second half of the session he introduced SPSS in the computer lab along with basics of statistics, measurement scales, types of analysis like applied research analysis, descriptive analysis, types of tests such as parametric and non parametric tests. He explained the concept of statistics with the help of a quiz.

The outcome of day one - we were able to identify and formulate research questions and statements, which type of methodology had to be applied on the particular research problem, and all of us overviewed SPSS under the guidance of Dr. Vivek Sharma. We also explored various options of the software including data view and variable view etc.

On the second day, the speaker recap about day one. He provided a data sheet for hands-on practices. He started with the Handson Experience on SPSS to add variables and data views of the variables. Then formulated null and alternative hypotheses to test the research questions. After this, learnt to apply various statistical and analysis tools and tests like Correlation and Regression. He also explained how to apply Hypothesis testing (t and F test) on SPSS.

The outcome of the day was, we learnt to apply t test, One way ANOVA, regression on data set. In addition, learn to add, compare groups of linear data, whether the hypothesis accepted or rejected on the basis of calculated value p value and standard value. Draw the conclusion of the analysis which is an important part of paper writing.

At the end of session a heartfelt vote of thanks was given by Dr. Shahina Qureshi on behalf of all the faculties of Acropolis Institute of Management Studies and Research for guiding all.

Conclusion:

The workshop on Research Methodology - SPSS by Dr. Vivek Sharma successfully conducted. The faculties of institutes have benefited themselves by asking queries and hands on experience with SPSS fostered practical skills essential for data analysis and also collected a lot of wonderful insights about the topic.

Acknowledgement:

Commerce Department, AIMSRS extend gratitude to the resource person Dr. Vivek Shrama for his invaluable efforts and contributions to this research oriented workshop. We believe that the knowledge gained through the workshop will have a lasting impact on the faculties of various departments of Acropolis Institutions.

Thank you

Workshop on RESEARCH METHODOLOGY- SPSS

Analysis of feedback – Day 1

Department of Commerce has organized two days Workshop on Research Methodology SPSS in which faculties of 7 departments have taken part. 30 Faculties were present for Workshop.

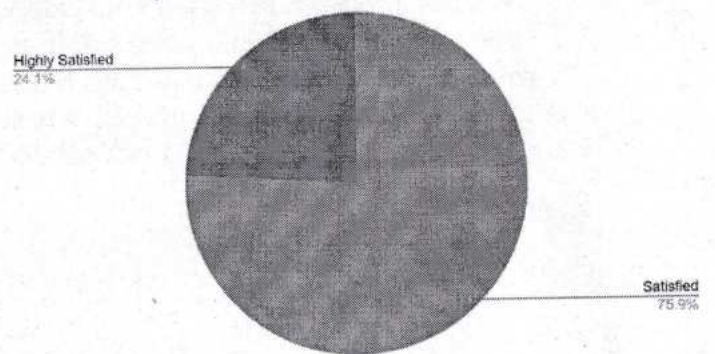

Count of 1. Did the session provide valuable insights about Research Methodology?

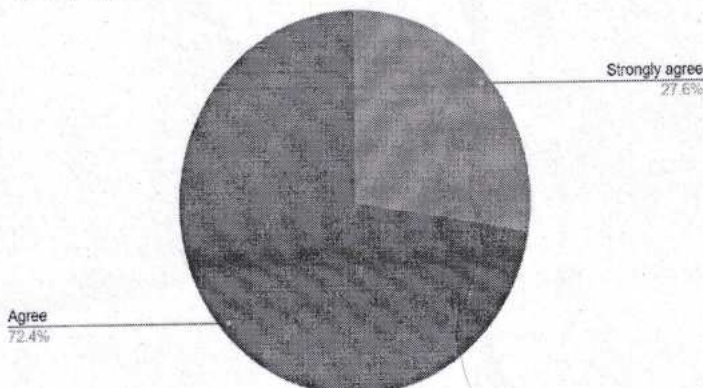

A significant majority of respondents, 55.2%, agreed that the session provided valuable insights, while 31.0% strongly agreed, indicating a high level of satisfaction. Meanwhile, 13.8% of the respondents were neutral, neither agreeing nor disagreeing with the statement. Overall, the data suggests that 86.2% of participants found the session on research methodology to be valuable, reflecting a generally positive reception.

A substantial majority of respondents, 75.9%, were satisfied with the information provided by the resource person. Additionally, 24.1% of respondents were highly satisfied. The data indicates that all respondents had a positive level of satisfaction, with no respondents expressing dissatisfaction. Overall, 100% of participants were satisfied to some degree.

Count of 2. Were you satisfied with the information provided by the resource person?

Count of 3. The content of the workshop was relevant to the topic (RM).

The data depicts that 72.4% respondents agree that the content of the workshop was relevant to the topic followed by 27.6% respondents who strongly satisfied with the content of the workshop.

4. What were the major key takeaways of the session?

Use of SPSS in research
SPSS Software insights
Major requirements for conducting research
Information about SPSS and understanding of statistical terminology
Review paper or research paper making and publishing, main pointers.
The session covered important aspects such as defining research objectives, selecting appropriate research methods, understanding data collection techniques and ensuring validity and reliability of research findings.
Choosing right method and tools How to work on data which is to be used for research
Got the knowledge about SPSS software and the key terminologies used in the software
The importance of literature review
Research paper criteria, extra reading, writing, SPSS details.
SPSS learning
How to find research problem Type of data How to identify research tools etc
In workshop speaker guides about research paper writing that we should define our construct before research paper writing. Review of literature is also important. He also teach SPSS software.
Define RM, Criteria of Good Research, Review of Literature
1. Hypothesis formation needs a lot of study. 2. Literature Review is an important part of research. 3. There is no definite process of conducting research. 4. A good research paper needs excessive reading. 5. Knowing the constructs of selected variables is crucial in research.
And many more
Current research trends

Workshop on RESEARCH METHODOLOGY- SPSS

Analysis of feedback – Day 2

Department of Commerce has organized two days Workshop on Research Methodology SPSS in which faculties of 7 departments have taken part. 30 Faculties were present for Workshop.

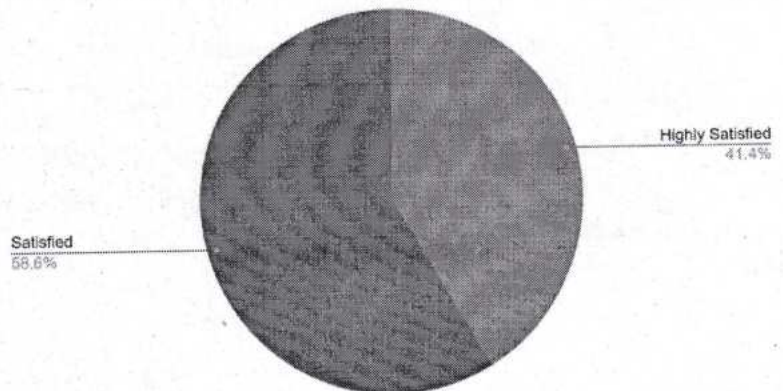

Count of 1. Did the session provide valuable insights about Research Methodology?

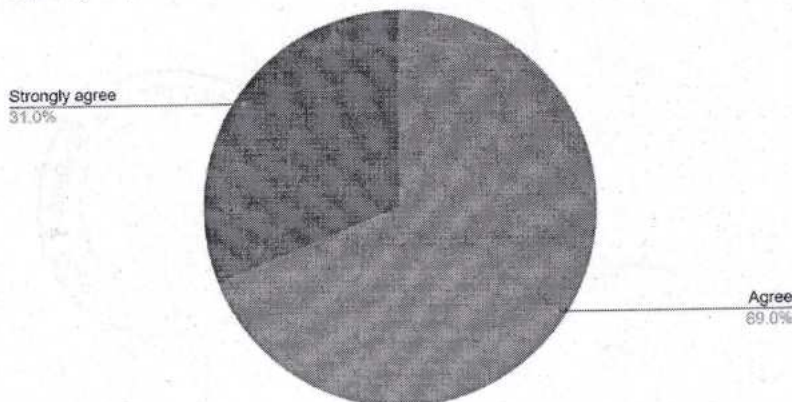

A significant majority of respondents, 51.7%, agreed that the session provided valuable insights, while 41.4% strongly agreed, indicating a high level of satisfaction. Meanwhile, 6.9% of the respondents were disagreed with the session. Overall, the data suggests that 86.2% of participants found the session on research methodology to be valuable, reflecting a generally positive reception.

A substantial majority of respondents, 58.6%, were satisfied with the information provided by the resource person. Additionally, 41.4% of respondents were highly satisfied. The data indicates that all respondents had a positive level of satisfaction, with no respondents expressing dissatisfaction. Overall, 100% of participants were satisfied to some degree.

Count of 2. Were you satisfied with the information provided by the resource person?

Count of 3. The content of the workshop was relevant to the topic (RM).

The data depicts that 69.0% respondents agree that the content of the workshop was relevant to the topic followed by 31.0% respondents who strongly satisfied with the content of the workshop.

4. What were the major key takeaways of the session

ANOVA n chi square

Who to use data for different condition and actual application of different tools of SPSS

The major takeaways include understanding how to choose and execute appropriate statistical test for different research questions

Use of SPSS

T test and Anova

SPSS tools and interpretation

Usage & Execution of SPSS

Learn how to enter & analyze data in SPSS Software.

Got a chance to understand different tools

How to use which tool.

and had an informative session

Data analysis through SPSS using ANOVA, T test, etc.

How to apply tools according to data.

How to interpret results of analysis

Your suggestions are welcomed...

Data types and it's theory

More lectures on analysis interpretation and RM also

Also organize the session on qualitative research

SPSS's relevance to Arts could have been explored

More detailed workshop on the same topic or related topics, should be organised Acropolis Institute of Management studies & Research organized session on research and methodology. This workshop is organized in order to aware about the new aspects of research and methodology. Resources person was Dr. Juhi Kamkoti, AFMR Indore.

Speaker Dr. Juhi Kamkoti was flowered welcomed by Principal Dr. Ashok Jhawar. Introduction of guest was given by Dr. Poonam Singh, Hod department of Humanities AIMSRS, Indore. She told that Dr. Juhi Kamkoti has rich experience in field of research.

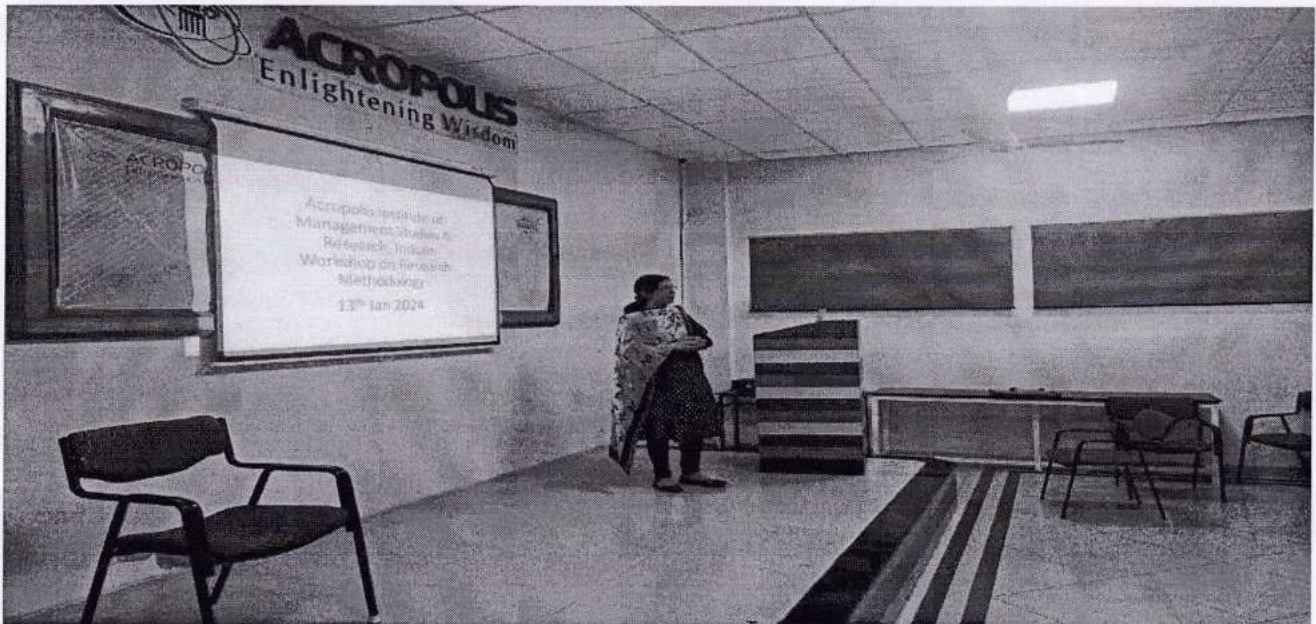

Dr. Juhi Kamkoti addressed session with the new terms of research. She further explained about the different criteria and about paper writing for Scopus. She minutely explained about various aspects, evaluation of Research, Innovation and extension. She explained about the guidelines for research paper making process

Dr. Juhi further explained about how to identify and define Research Problems she said a research problem is a definite or clear expression about an area of concern, a condition to be improved upon, a difficulty to be eliminated, or a troubling question that exists in scholarly literature, in theory, or within existing practice that points to a need for meaningful understanding and deliberate investigation. A research problem does not state how to do something, offer a vague or broad proposition, or present a value question. It is not always easy to formulate the research problem simply and clearly. It may take years to decide for some and just a few minutes for others to decide the research problem to be studied

About fifty faculty was present during this program. There was gracious present of Principal Dr. Ashok Jhawar, Dean Dr. Ananat Gwal, Head Dr. Geeta Santosh, Heads of various departments and faculty members were present during this program. Program was conclude by Vote of thanks given by Dr. Pranoti Belapurkar. She told that this session is fruitful for us. Our faculty members are benefitted by this workshop.
